Why is Africa important for the U.S. at this time?

Why we should consider Africa’s future to be of significance to a faith community in the U.S.

Fr. Peter Henriot, S.J.

Wednesday, April 14th, 2010 - 7:00 p.m.
St. John's Parish Church
On the Creighton University Campus

Plus, a Lunch Follow-up Conversation with Faculty and Staff
Thursday, April 15th, - 11:30 am - 1:00 pm
Skutt Student Center Ballroom
It is not necessary to attend the talk to participate in the lunch discussion.
Fr. Henriot will continue to share from his experience and invite interaction with the group.

“Social justice means loving people so much that I work to change structures that violate their dignity.”

- Peter Henriot, S.J.

A world-renowned Jesuit who is a leader in social analysis and understanding the issues of a rapidly growing global economy.

He comes to help us appreciate Africa — her gifts, her needs, her challenges for us.

Sponsored by:
- The Collaborative Ministry Office
- The Creighton U. Jesuit Community
- The Creighton Center for Service and Justice
- The Justice and Peace Studies program
- The Graff Chair in Catholic Theology
- The African Studies Program
- The Office of Multicultural Affairs