The harvest is abundant but the laborers are few; so ask the master of the harvest to send out laborers for his harvest. Go on your way....

Luke 10

The story of the rich man and Lazarus is the focus of the Luke's Gospel on the Twenty-Sixth Sunday of Ordinary Time. This is a classic story of how the tables are turned in the afterlife. The rich man has it good in this life and ignores the plight of poor Lazarus. In the afterlife, it is the rich man who is in torment and Lazarus is the one who is enjoying heaven. The double irony comes when the rich man asks that Lazarus be sent to warn his brothers. Jesus responds: “If they will not listen to Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded if someone should rise from the dead.” Will we listen to the one who has risen from the dead?

Monday is the Memorial of Saint Vincent de Paul, priest. Wednesday is the Feast of Saints Michael, Gabriel, and Raphael, archangels, with its own special readings. Thursday is the Memorial of Saint Jerome, priest and doctor of the Church. Friday is the Memorial of Saint Thérèse of the Child Jesus, virgin and doctor of the Church. Saturday is the Memorial of the Guardian Angels.

Our first reading all week offers a look at the Book of Job. We witness his despair and his faithfulness in his most trying times and end with his praise of God's glory.

Luke's Gospel continues to offer us stories of Jesus “resolutely” on the way to Jerusalem and the suffering that faces him there. Jesus points out a young child and asks them to strive to be the “least” not the greatest. He is not welcomed in a Samaritan village but rebukes the disciples who want revenge on the village. He encourages his followers: “No one who sets a hand to the plow and looks to what was left behind is fit for the Kingdom of God.” He sends 72 of his disciples out with nothing but their faith: “no money bag, no sack, no sandals.” He holds the people of Chorazin and Bethsaida accountable for ignoring his message despite “mighty deeds done in your midst” saying “whoever rejects me rejects the one who sent me.” As the 72 followers returned to Jesus, they marveled at the power given them in his name as he praises his father for revealing wisdom “to the childlike.”

We read from Luke's Gospel on the Twenty-Seventh Sunday of Ordinary Time about the apostles asking Jesus, “Increase our faith.” Jesus assures them they only need faith the size of a mustard seed. Then, Jesus makes it clear that as disciples our role is that of servants.

“Be with me in this next challenge, Lord. I often lose my temper here. I can get fairly impatient at this time. I get hooked and slip into judgment and anger. Stay with me and I will rely on your grace to be more patient, gentle and loving.” Or, walking down the hall to the restroom, I might say, in my heart, “Lord, it really helps me to remember that beyond my job description, I'm your disciple. Help me to listen to you. Help me sense I'm here to let your Kingdom enter the world here. Give me the help to bring healing and love in this place today.”

Try to take a brief few moments while getting ready for bed to recall the moments of connection and grace this day and give thanks.
